Change to the Ontario Clean Energy Benefit

The government of Ontario passed The Ontario Clean Energy Benefit Act (OCEBA) in 2010 to provide residential, farm and small business consumers with a 10 per cent rebate on eligible electricity costs through the Ontario Clean Energy Benefit (OCEB).

The 2012 Ontario Budget has placed a limit on the OCEB. Effective September 1, 2012 eligible customers will receive the OCEB on the first 3,000 kilowatt hours (kWh) per month of electricity they consume (with some exceptions.) Prior to September 1, 2012, the 10 per cent rebate was on the total cost of monthly electricity consumed.

Notices to this effect will appear on your bill starting September 1, 2012.
